

Contents

List of photographs	7
List of figures	8
Notes on editors and contributors	9
Acknowledgements	11
Introduction. Border-related practices from interdisciplinary perspectives	13
Anu Kannike, Kadri Tüür

Wandering borders

Rivers, borders, and the flows of the landscape	24
Franz Krause
Fixity and movement in Western Siberia: when oil worker, native and reindeer paths cross	46
Eva Toulouze, Liivo Niglas
The meaning of movement: wayfaring to the islets surrounding Muhu island (Estonia) during the twentieth century	85
Riin Magnus, Kadri Tüür
Visitors to the other side: some reflections on the Baltic Sea as a frontier and contact zone in late prehistory	106
Uwe Sperling
Visions and dreams in Russian Orthodox culture as border crossing	133
Irina Paert

Bordering ruptures: the dynamics of self-description

The Hero's Mother: Lotta Svärd and mediated memories	147
Merja Ellefson
Negotiating borders: conflicting memories of World War II participants in Lithuania	169
Irena Šutinienė
The Stalinist prison camp in Estonian life stories: depicting the past through continuity and discontinuity	189
Tiiu Jaago
Personal trauma versus Cold War rhetoric in the Finnish–Russian borderland	205
Tuulikki Kurki
Magazine texts portraying contacts between Finns and Soviets in the 1970s and 1980s	231
Tuija Saarinen
Index of names	254